

GREENHEAD

— the arkansas duck hunting magazine —

DUCK HUNTING IN ARKANSAS IS UNLIKE ANY WHERE ELSE IN THE WORLD.

No other state is as steeped in such rich duck hunting tradition and history. Family heritages are built around it. Professional relationships are formed around it. With the common occurrence of business transactions taking place at the duck club, it is only natural that Arkansas Business, with its audience of decision and deal makers, create a magazine for the executive wing shooter.

There are other duck hunting publications out there, but none written by knowledgeable, longtime Arkansas duck hunters. Our readers want to hear the latest facts about the sport from real experts who can give the ultimate tips on how to make this hunting season superior to any other.

Greenhead, a guide for the executive duck hunting enthusiast is a fun, informative magazine that gives readers an in-depth look at the people, places and wild-life that makes gunning for ducks legendary in Arkansas.
